FORD AND LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS' NEW BANK

GIGANTIC COMBINE OF THE TWO IN COOPERATIVE BANK IN NEW YORK

It is Expected that Ford Will Put Up a Deposit of From $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 in the New Bank and Battle Wall Street

Union of Maintenance of Way Men to Establish a Similar Cooperative Bank in Detroit in Which Ford, It is Reported, Will Also Take Interest

By United Press

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 7.—Plans for a gigantic combine of the interests of Henry Ford and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers cooperative bank for a finish fight on Wall Street, became known here today.

Joseph J. Hobert, Jr., general financial agent of the bank, announced today that he will go to Detroit next week to see Ford.

Hobert plans to ask Ford to join with W. F. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the president of the bank, in carrying the cooperative banking movement into New York.

It is expected that Hobert will ask Ford to put a deposit of some $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 into the bank.

It is understood that Stone feels that $17,000,000, the bank's present funds, are not large enough with which to go into New York.

In a statement to the United Press today, Hobert said: "We have thought over Mr. Ford's proposition in the financial world, and believe that his entrance into the cooperative plan would be a great benefit to the workers of the nation as they would share in all the profits of our bank."

Under the cooperative system four per cent interest is paid on all deposits. Then after expenses, including rate on capital stock, is paid, the profits are divided among the depositors in the form of dividends.

If Ford is going into the deal, financial observers take it to mean that he is decided to make Wall street a battle on its own territory.

The alliance between the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' bank and Ford would be one of the largest and most far reaching financial deals ever arranged.

Hobert's statement comes on the heels of rumors that Ford is planning to extend his railroad holdings by purchase of the Wabash and Virginia railroads. It has been announced that the union of Maintenance of Way men with headquarters in Detroit, has decided to establish a cooperative bank Ford had agreed to share the workings of the Detroit bank with close interest.

GANG FEUD CAUSES SHOOTING OF THREE

(By United Press.)

Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 7.—Three men were shot, one perhaps fatally in an alleged gang feud here late yesterday.

The men, John Looney, 23, son of a publisher, Albert J. Allduyer, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Don Drost, were shot here as a result of a gang war which had its inception in the fatal shooting of Bill Cabel, alleged vice leader, last August.

Looney, hospital physicians declared, will die. The other men received lesser wounds, and are expected to recover.

POTATO CAMPAIGN GETTING RESULTS

"BUY A PILE" MOVEMENT CAUSE OF NOTABLE STRENGTHENING DEMAND

Whole hearted co-operation between all factors interested in grading and marketing potatoes will make Potato Week—Oct. 7 to 14—an outstanding success. City and country papers, farm publications, the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, the State Department of Agriculture, civic associations and the retail and jobbers' associations in the Twin Cities all combined forces to create a stronger demand for Minnesota grown potatoes.

The governor's proclamation of last week setting Oct. 7-14 as potato week was supplemented by thousands of posters which urged consumers, especially small buyers, to put in a winter's supply. The aim was to help potato growers in their present situation just as the "buy a bale of cotton" campaign of a few years ago helped out Southern farmers. Articles and cartoons in newspapers added to the effort.

"The full effect of the campaign will not be obvious for some time," says N. J. Holmberg, state commissioner of Agriculture. "There has been a marked increase in the local demand, especially in St. Paul and Minneapolis, according to reports received from retail dealers. This increased demand is certain to continue for several weeks and it is bound to have a wholesome effect on prices. However, nothing that this or any similar campaign can do will make a market for small, mixed and ungraded potatoes. The necessity for 'keeping the little ones at home,' is greater this year than ever."

ECCENTRIC RELATIVE QUESTIONED BY POLICE

(By United Press.)

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 7.—Willie Stevens, accentric brother-in-law of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, who was found murdered beside Mrs. James Mills, his choir leader, was quizzed until dawn by authorities today.

The reopening of the probe of the murder mystery was started on orders of Governor Edwards who forwarded a sharp note to local authorities ordering them to press the investigation.

Prosecutor Strickler made public a message from one of the love notes they found from Mrs. Mills to the Rev. Hall.

"I am sorry you bought me that spicey book," the passage read, "it fired my soul and wafted me into spiritual worlds—oh goodness."

(By United Press)

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 7. — With their characteristic dash of attack, and their airtight defense, the New York Giants came from behind here this afternoon and defeated the Yanks 4 to 3 in the fourth game of the world's series.

The game was played from start to finish in a downpour of rain that soaked the capacity crowd in the bleachers. The Yanks, showing symptoms of getting out of their slump, got on Hugh McQuillan, the former Bostan Brave, in the first inninng, when they scored two runs on four lusty singles. Their punch stopped then, and they were helpless until the seventh inning, when Ward got his secon homer of the series, a drive far up into the left field bleachers.

Carl Mays, the submarine pitcher of the Yanks, had the Giants baffled for four innings. With a furiou attack in the fifth, the Giants put over four runs.

Snyder started the inning with a single over Scott. McQuillan drove down the left field foul line for a double, and Bancroft put them both over with a hard single to the right. Groh beat out an infield hit and then Bancroft scored Frisch with a long sacrifice fly. Groh finished the scoring by coming in on Irish Meusel's infield out.

McQuillan, one of the dark horses of McGraw's pitching staff, pitched brilliantly after a bad start. He made the mistake of feeding high ones to the Yanks in the first inning which they feasted on. He then switched to low balls, and stopped them cold for the rest of the game.

Today's victory was the third for the Giants, while the Yanks have yet to win one, and places McGraw in the position of overwhelming favorite for the championship.

CAR SHORTAGE MAY CAUSE GROWERS A LOSS OF MILLIONS

SITUATION IS PARTICULARLY ACUTE IN CALIFORNIA GRAPE DISTRICT

ALSO IN FRUIT SECTIONS OF NEW YORK, OHIO AND MICHIGAN, ETC.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Oct. 7—Millions of dollars of perishable crops may be ruined within the next few weeks because of the inability of the growers to get cars for shipping their products to market, according to reports reaching government authorities today from many sections of the country.

The situation is particularly acute in the California grape districts, in the fruit sections of New York, Ohio and Michigan, and in the potato districts of Maine, Minnesota, Northern Wisconsin and the Dakotas.

The safety of the huge apple crop in the northwestern states and of the cotton seed products in the south is also a cause for concern.

New York, Oct. 7—The secret cellar store house of a great international boot-legging ring was held by federal authorities today as agents continued an inventory of a million dollar haul of illicit liquor.

The cache was discovered when agents under Federal Zone Chief Appleby bored under the Standard Carpet company last night. Of even greater value than the liquor seized, according to Appleby, is the evidence that may convict men higher-up in a great rum smuggling plot.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE SO INTERPRETS PROHIBITION LAW AS TO U. S. WATERS

Washington, Oct. 7—All vessels, American and foreign owned, are prohibited from having liquor on board in American territorial waters under an interpretation of the prohibition amendment and the enforcement act handed down by the department of justice. Moreover, the transportation or sale of intoxicants on American craft, wherever operated, was held to be forbidden.

American territorial waters were construed to include those not only within the three-mile limit of continental United States but also those within the same limits of the Philippines, the Hawaiian islands, Porto Rico, the Virgin islands and Alaska. The Panama Canal Zone is specifically exempted by the statute itself.

Sale to Cease

The sale or transportation of liquor by American ships will cease at once, or as soon as those vessels reach their home ports. The decision will become operative on foreign ships as soon as the necessary regulations can be prepared by the treasury department.

Court action looking to a final determination of the application of American dry laws to foreign ships entering American ports was foreseen by both Attorney General Daugherty and Chairman Lsker of the shipping board. Mr. Daugherty said he already had been advised that a case was about to be filed which would bring the issue to the supreme court.

POTATO CROPS NEED HELP, SAYS OFFICIAL

PRODUCERS OF NORTHWEST'S GREATEST OUTPUT FACE HUGE LOSS

Minneapolis, Oct. 7.—The northwest's greatest potato crop—an excess of 50,000,000 over former years—is a drug on the market and producers face staggering losses because of a dragging market and car shortage, according to Hugh J. Hughes, state director of markets.

Northwest farmers have raised a smashing crop, Mr. Hughes said, which for quantity and quality is unprecedented, only to be met with discouraging market conditions.

The state marketing department, producers and businessmen are working hard, he said, to find some solution in the coming week, which has been designated potato week.

Car shortages threaten that hundreds of thousands of bushels will rot on top of the ground if they are dug.

"For years Minnesota cities have been known as 'junk markets' for potatoes," Mr. Hughes said. "It is now up to the Minnesota public to prove it will take the better grade potatoes off the farmer's hands," Mr. Hughes said. "Harry Baltuff, editor of the Produce Reporter, has suggested a 'Buy a Sack of Potatoes' campaign."

AGREEMENT REPORTED CONCLUDED RELATING TO THRACE

DECIDED GREECE MUST START EVACUATION OF THRACE IMMEDIATELY

THE ALLIES WILL ENTER ON HEELS OF DEPARTING GREEKS —AND TURKS LATER

(By United Press)

Paris, Oct. 7—France backed Great Britain against the Turks today.

It was officially agreed by Lloyd Curzon and Premier Poincaire that the Kemalists shall not be permitted to enter Thrace until peace is concluded.

The Greeks, it has been decided, must start evacuation of Thrace immediately. The allies will enter on the heels of the departing Greeks. One month after the latter are completely out, the Turks may come in and set up a civil administration.

Their armies may not enter Thrace nor cross the straits.

This was the answer to Mustapha Kemal's ultimatum.

The Curzon-Poincaire agreement was approved at a meeting of the French cabinet and instructions will be sent to Mudania where the allied terms will be handed to the Ottoman chief.

The Turks demanded Thrace immediately.

Lloyd Curzon hurried to Paris. The French cabinet met immediately after a tentative agreement had been reached by Curzon, who held three of the six telephone lines between Paris and London open all night, then got in touch with Downing Street. The British cabinet, it was believed, will be called together immediately to discuss the tentative agreement.

The date of the peace conference will be set in event both the British and French governments back the position of the representatives. Curzon, it was stated, at the conference with Poincaire, won the Frnech premier over to the plan that the Turks should not be permitted to cross the straits until peace had been declared.

It was pointed out by Curzon that if the Turks get Thrace immediately, the allies would be deprived of any effective means to bring pressure to bear on the Kemalists that they accept the conditions regarding Constantinople and the straits as laid down in the allied note to the Turks, which was dispatched two weeks ago.

It is anticipated here that Mustapha Kemal will back down and accept the latest proposal in the face of the solid front of the allies. After the ultimatum ordering the Turks not to cross the straits is presented, it is expected that the Greeks will be notified to start to evacuate as soon as possible.

Agreement Approved

Shopmen's Side of Controversy As Given by Publicity Committee

"Diehard" Roads Sign Pact; Money Interests Want Peace

Strikers Stand Firm All Along Line and Railroad Equipment Goes from Bad to Worse—Leaders Negotiating with Managers Report Satisfactory Progress.

(LABOR)

More than eighty railroads have now signed the Baltimore agreement and leaders of the shopmen's unions who are negotiating with the others report satisfactory progress.

Strikers are standing firm all along the line.

Railroad equipment is in such fearful shape that big eastern roads are establishing embargoes on freight shipments.

Shopmen who have returned to work on roads which have signed up report equipment in worse condition than the strikers themselves had imagined.

Certain financial interests heavily interested in railroad securities are bringing pressure to bear on the managers to cease their futile struggle with the strikers. This accounts for the more conciliatory attitude of a number of the "die-hards."

By CLINT C. HOUSTON

More than 80 railroads have signed the Baltimore plan for settlement of the shopmen's strike, and the men on these lines have returned to work

Among the latest to sign is the Erie railroad, hitherto one of the roughest "die-hards" and which was in large measure responsible for taking of a strike vote. It had farmed out all shops and maintenance work. Two other important accessions of the week were the Ann Arbor and the Pittsburgh & West Virginia. The Fort Smith & Western; Colorado, Wyoming & Eastern; and the Utah railroads can also be added to the list of the signers published in last week's issue of Labor.

Encouraging reports came to the Railway Employes' Department from President B. M. Jewell, who is conducting a series of settlement negotiations with railway executives in Philadelphia and New York.

At the same time the executive council of the department has been meeting in Chicago, making a survey of the general situation. General chairmen on many lines came here to report in person to the council.

My information from members of the council is that the outlook for early agreements on most of the roads which have been holding out is very promising.

Men's Morale Unbroken

Daugherty's drastic injunction has not broken the morale of the men anywhere, and with exception of the slight slip at Nashville recorded in this correspondence last week, there are no backsliders among the strikers. General chairmen who have been here report the men standing as determined to win their rights as when they quit the shops on July 1.

Stockholders and bondholders of the roads are beginning to exert pressure upon the railway executives to settle with the shopmen, to quit piling up useless expenses and put the roads in condition so that they

FORD AND LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS' NEW BANK

GIGANTIC COMBINE OF THE TWO IN COOPERATIVE BANK IN NEW YORK

It is Expected that Ford Will Put Up a Deposit of From $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 in the New Bank and Battle Wall Street

Union of Maintenance of Way Men to Establish a Similar Cooperative Bank in Detroit in Which Ford, It is Reported, Will Also Take Interest

By United Press

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 7.—Plans for a gigantic combine of the interests of Henry Ford and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers cooperative bank for a finish fight on Wall Street, became known here today.

Joseph J. Hobert, Jr., general financial agent of the bank, announced today that he will go to Detroit next week to see Ford.

Hobert plans to ask Ford to join with W. F. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the president of the bank, in carrying the cooperative banking movement into New York.

It is expected that Hobert will ask Ford to put a deposit of some $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 into the bank.

It is understood that Stone feels that $17,000,000, the bank's present funds, are not large enough with which to go into New York.

In a statement to the United Press today, Hobert said: "We have thought over Mr. Ford's proposition in the financial world, and believe that his entrance into the cooperative plan would be a great benefit to the workers of the nation as they would share in all the profits of our bank."

Under the cooperative system four per cent interest is paid on all deposits. Then after expenses, including rate on capital stock, is paid, the profits are divided among the depositors in the form of dividends.

The alliance between the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' bank and Ford would be one of the largest and most far reaching financial deals ever arranged.

Hobert's statement comes on the heels of rumors that Ford is planning to extend his railroad holdings by purchase of the Wabash and Virginia railroads. It has been announced that the union of Maintenance of Way men with headquarters in Detroit, has decided to establish a cooperative bank Ford had agreed to share the workings of the Detroit bank with close interest.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE SO INTERPRETS PROHIBITION LAW AS TO U. S. WATERS

Washington, Oct. 7—All vessels, American and foreign owned, are prohibited from having liquor on board in American territorial waters under an interpretation of the prohibition amendment and the enforcement act handed down by the department of justice. Moreover, the transportation or sale of intoxicants on American craft, wherever operated, was held to be forbidden.

American territorial waters were construed to include those not only within the three-mile limit of continental United States but also those within the same limits of the Philippines, the Hawaiian islands, Porto Rico, the Virgin islands and Alaska. The Panama Canal Zone is specifically exempted by the statute itself.

Sale to Cease

The sale or transportation of liquor by American ships will cease at once, or as soon as those vessels reach their home ports. The decision will become operative on foreign ships as soon as the necessary regulations can be prepared by the treasury department.

Court action looking to a final determination of the application of American dry laws to foreign ships entering American ports was foreseen by both Attorney General Daugherty and Chairman Lsker of the shipping board. Mr. Daugherty said he already had been advised that a case was about to be filed which would bring the issue to the supreme court.

POTATO CROPS NEED HELP, SAYS OFFICIAL

PRODUCERS OF NORTHWEST'S GREATEST OUTPUT FACE HUGE LOSS

Minneapolis, Oct. 7.—The northwest's greatest potato crop—an excess of 50,000,000 over former years—is a drug on the market and producers face staggering losses because of a dragging market and car shortage, according to Hugh J. Hughes, state director of markets.

Northwest farmers have raised a smashing crop, Mr. Hughes said, which for quantity and quality is unprecedented, only to be met with discouraging market conditions.

The state marketing department, producers and businessmen are working hard, he said, to find some solution in the coming week, which has been designated potato week.

Car shortages threaten that hundreds of thousands of bushels will rot on top of the ground if they are dug.

"For years Minnesota cities have been known as 'junk markets' for potatoes," Mr. Hughes said. "It is now up to the Minnesota public to prove it will take the better grade potatoes off the farmer's hands," Mr. Hughes said. "Harry Baltuff, editor of the Produce Reporter, has suggested a 'Buy a Sack of Potatoes' campaign."

The father was killed instantly, one son died a few minutes later, and the mother died enroute to the hospital at St. Cloud. Another son about 20, was dying, and a third son, 14, was in a critical condition with a fractured skull. The family were driving to St. Paul for the Dairy

DECIDED GREECE MUST START EVACUATION OF THRACE IMMEDIATELY

THE ALLIES WILL ENTER ON HEELS OF DEPARTING GREEKS —AND TURKS LATER

(By United Press)

Paris, Oct. 7—France backed Great Britain against the Turks today.

It was officially agreed by Lloyd Curzon and Premier Poincaire that the Kemalists shall not be permitted to enter Thrace until peace is concluded.

The Greeks, it has been decided, must start evacuation of Thrace immediately. The allies will enter on the heels of the departing Greeks. One month after the latter are completely out, the Turks may come in and set up a civil administration.

Their armies may not enter Thrace nor cross the straits.

This was the answer to Mustapha Kemal's ultimatum.

The Curzon-Poincaire agreement was approved at a meeting of the French cabinet and instructions will be sent to Mudania where the allied terms will be handed to the Ottoman chief.

The Turks demanded Thrace immediately.

Lloyd Curzon hurried to Paris. The French cabinet met immediately after a tentative agreement had been reached by Curzon, who held three of the six telephone lines between Paris and London open all night, then got in touch with Downing Street. The British cabinet, it was believed, will be called together immediately to discuss the tentative agreement.

The date of the peace conference will be set in event both the British and French governments back the position of the representatives. Curzon, it was stated, at the conference with Poincaire, won the Frnech premier over to the plan that the Turks should not be permitted to cross the straits until peace had been declared.

It was pointed out by Curzon that if the Turks get Thrace immediately, the allies would be deprived of any effective means to bring pressure to bear on the Kemalists that they accept the conditions regarding Constantinople and the straits as laid down in the allied note to the Turks, which was dispatched two weeks ago.

It is anticipated here that Mustapha Kemal will back down and accept the latest proposal in the face of the solid front of the allies. After the ultimatum ordering the Turks not to cross the straits is presented, it is expected that the Greeks will be notified to start to evacuate as soon as possible.

Agreement Approved

London, Oct. 7—The British cabinet today approved the gareement entered into by Foreign Minister Curzon and Premier Poincaire regarding the Near East crisis.

Shopmen's Side of Controversy As Given by Publicity Committee

"Diehard" Roads Sign Pact; Money Interests Want Peace

Strikers Stand Firm All Along Line and Railroad Equipment Goes from Bad to Worse—Leaders Negotiating with Managers Report Satisfactory Progress.

(LABOR)

More than eighty railroads have now signed the Baltimore agreement and leaders of the shopmen's unions who are negotiating with the others report satisfactory progress.

Strikers are standing firm all along the line.

Railroad equipment is in such fearful shape that big eastern roads are establishing embargoes on freight shipments.

Shopmen who have returned to work on roads which have signed up report equipment in worse condition than the strikers themselves had imagined.

Certain financial interests heavily interested in railroad securities are bringing pressure to bear on the managers to cease their futile struggle with the strikers. This accounts for the more conciliatory attitude of a number of the "die-hards."

By CLINT C. HOUSTON

More than 80 railroads have signed the Baltimore plan for settlement of the shopmen's strike, and the men on these lines have returned to work

Among the latest to sign is the Erie railroad, hitherto one of the roughest "die-hards" and which was in large measure responsible for taking of a strike vote. It had farmed out all shops and maintenance work. Two other important accessions of the week were the Ann Arbor and the Pittsburgh & West Virginia. The Fort Smith & Western; Colorado, Wyoming & Eastern; and the Utah railroads can also be added to the list of the signers published in last week's issue of Labor.

Encouraging reports came to the Railway Employes' Department from President B. M. Jewell, who is conducting a series of settlement negotiations with railway executives in Philadelphia and New York.

At the same time the executive council of the department has been meeting in Chicago, making a survey of the general situation. General chairmen on many lines came here to report in person to the council.

My information from members of the council is that the outlook for early agreements on most of the roads which have been holding out is very promising.

Men's Morale Unbroken

Daugherty's drastic injunction has not broken the morale of the men anywhere, and with exception of the slight slip at Nashville recorded in this correspondence last week, there are no backsliders among the strikers. General chairmen who have been here report the men standing as determined to win their rights as when they quit the shops on July 1.

Stockholders and bondholders of the roads are beginning to exert pressure upon the railway executives to settle with the shopmen, to quit piling up useless expenses and put the roads in condition so that they

"Greek Meeting Greek" Discounted When 2 Flivvers Crash Near 6th and Laurel

A case of "When Greek meets Greek" occurred at noon today near the intersection of South 6th and Laurel streets, when two Ford sedans went to the mat.

The sedan belonging to C. W. Milkes was backing away from the curb in front of the Pennant store, and collided with a sedan going north on 6th and being driven by Kent Angel.

The Milkes car took the count, having one of its rear wheels demolished. The damage to the Angel automobile was only slight, a bent fender being all that was damaged.

Chief of Police Erick Graff was on the scene a moment after the accident occured, and haled the drivers of both cars into court, which is called for two o'clock this afternoon. Judge J. H. Warner will be called upon to determine who was at fault in the case and will mete out justice accordingly.

The eye witnesses who will be asked to testify are Harold Jones, who was riding with Angel at the time of the collision, and R. J. Cunningham who saw it from the sidewalk.

In municipal court this morning, James Flynn, a farmer from the Lake Edward country, was fined $10 and $2 costs for being drunk and disorderly. Flynn was picked up by Captain Risberg Friday evening, and caused that officer no little trouble before he was finally lodged in the city jail.

The special election is for the purpose of submitting to the voters of the city the matter of amending the city charter as recommended by the charter commission.

TO THE PUBLIC

A few days ago consumer of electricity attempted to connect his tank heater diretely with the main line switch, because his other connection did not work satisfactorily. While this connection was up the meter-reader happened along and observed the irregularity, the owner quickly pulling out the wires at that moment. The current used to heat the tank was not being metered. The claim is made that the connection had just been made and current used no longer than ten minutes.

We offer this as an example of one instance which has led this consumer into a serious situation. He was trying to remedy some trouble he had. His contention may be right, but it is difficult to convince his neighbor that he is right. How would he get along without electric current if it were cut off. It does not pay a consumer to tamper with the service. It is a very expensive thing for him to attempt.

This is the second offense discovered in three weeks. We request that closer observance of the "Rules and Regulations" be practised by consumers.

"FAMILY REUNION WEEK" AT LYCEUM

To be Inaugurated by Manager W. R. Hiller at His Popular Playhouse Starting Oct. 9th

If Successful, More of These Pleasing Programs Will be Run at the Picture House

W. R. Hiller, manager of the Lyceum theatre, is inaugurating a "Family Re-Union Week" at his popular playhouse, starting next Monday, October 9th.

Many organizations, as well as a majority of the patrons of the Lyceum, have been requesting Mr. Hiller to put on more pictures suitable for all members of the family, and the management is endeavoring to cooperate by staging this "Family Week".

The result of next week's attendance will be proof of the pudding, and if the citizens respond to the Lyceum's action, Mr. Hiller will bill more "Family Pictures" in the future.

As a sample of the high-class productions for next week, you are asked to feast your eyes on the following program:

Monday and Tuesday—A Rupert Hughes picture entitled "Come On Over". "This is an Irish comedy-drama of home life, with Colleen Moore playing the lead. It is a picture that the whole family can see and enjoy.

Wednesday and Thursday—Thomas Meighan in "Cappy Ricks", from the novel by Peter B. Kyne. The characters in this picture are all familiar to readers of the Saturday Evening Post, and every member of the family will enjoy the production. The cast includes Agnes Ayres, the beautiful Paramount star. The picture is endorsed by the National Committee for better films.

Friday and Saturday—"Trooper O'Neal", one of those interesting stories of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, with the Canadian Rockies used as a background, the beautiful scenic atmosphere being a big factor in the setting.

Such a program cannot help but draw commendable criticism for the efforts of Mr. Hiller in giving the Lyceum theatregoers the class of pictures that the whole family can see with profit to all.

A prize, in the form of a week's pass to the Lyceum, will be offered by the management for the largest family attending during "Family Week." Names and addresses of those wishing to work for this prize are to be handed to the cashier of the theatre at the ticket window.

Baltimore, Oct. 7.—Jack Dunn and his teammates are pinning their hopes on Jack Ogden to hold down the St. Paul team in the third game of the little world's series which will be played starting at 2:30 today. CREASY SENTENCED TO ELECTRIC CHAIR

(By United Press)

Mineola, Oct. 7.—William Creasy, the Kentucky sweetheart, was sentenced by Judge Smith to die at the electric chair at Sing Sing prison during the week of November 6th.

Creasy was convicted of murdering Miss Edith Lavoy, Freeport, N. Y., school teacher, as she lay in his arms in her apartment.

The condemned man stated the girl had committed suicide with a gun she took from his pocket. Creasy was sentenced after his attorney moved for an arrest of judgment. This was denied and sentence pronounced. Attorneys served notice they would appeal the case.

And when I came to think it over I decided that I'd better let marriage alone."

The result of next week's attendance will be proof of the pudding, and if the citizens respond to the Lyceum's action, Mr. Hiller will bill more "Family Pictures" in the future.

As a sample of the high-class productions for next week, you are asked to feast your eyes on the following program:

Monday and Tuesday—A Rupert Hughes picture entitled "Come On Over". This is an Irish comedy-drama of home life, with Colleen Moore playing the lead. It is a picture that the whole family can see and enjoy.

Wednesday and Thursday—Thomas Meighan in "Cappy Ricks", from the novel by Peter B. Kyne. The characters in this picture are all familiar to readers of the Saturday Evening Post, and every member of the family will enjoy the production. The cast includes Agnes Ayres, the beautiful Paramount star. The picture is endorsed by the National Committee for better films.

Friday and Saturday—"Trooper O'Neal", one of those interesting stories of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, with the Canadian Rockies used as a background, the beautiful scenic atmosphere being a big factor in the setting.

Such a program cannot help but draw commendable criticism for the efforts of Mr. Hiller in giving the Lyceum theatregoers the class of pictures that the whole family can see with profit to all.

A prize, in the form of a week's pass to the Lyceum, will be offered by the management for the largest family attending during "Family Week." Names and addresses of those wishing to work for this prize are to be handed to the cashier of the theatre at the ticket window.

FRISCO TO LONDON RADIO TALK PLANNED

San Francisco, Oct. 7.—An attempt to have his voice carried from San Francisco to London through the agency of the long distance land telephone and the wireless telephone, was to be made today by H. Gordon Selfridge, Jr., son of a London merchant.

Selfridge will "call up" Newark and ask to be connected with his father's establishment in London through the agency of the radio telephone station of a Newark department store. If the experiment is successful, he will spend five minutes telling his father how he is spending his time as an employe of a big department store here.

THIRD GAME ON OF ST. PAUL-BALTIMORE

(By United Press.)

Baltimore, Oct. 7.—Jack Dunn and his teammates are pinning their hopes on Jack Ogden to hold down the St. Paul team in the third game of the little world's series which will be played starting at 2:30 today. Ogden is the man who won Baltimore three games from the Louisville Colonels in last year's series. It is likely that Manager Kelly will send Sheehan to the mound, and that Gonzalles and McAvoy will be behind the bat.

No Game, Rain

Baltimore, Oct. 7.—The little world's series of the Baltimore and St. Paul game was postponed today on account of rain.

CREASY SENTENCED TO ELECTRIC CHAIR

(By United Press)

Mineola, Oct. 7.—William Creasy, the Kentucky sweetheart, was sentenced by Judge Smith to die at the electric chair at Sing Sing prison during the week of November 6th.

Creasy was convicted of murdering Miss Edith Lavoy, Freeport, N. Y., school teacher, as she lay in his arms in her apartment.

The condemned man stated the girl had committed suicide with a gun she took from his pocket. Creasy was sentenced after his attorney moved for an arrest of judgment. This was denied and sentence pronounced. Attorneys served notice they would appeal the case.

After That He Evaded Traps.

"Why have I never married?" the confirmed bachelor repeated a leading question. "Well, once upon a time in a crowd I trod on a lady's gown. She turned, furiously, beginning, 'You clumsy brute!' Then she smiled sweetly, and said: 'Oh, I beg your pardon, I thought you were my husband. No, it really doesn't matter in the least.' And when I came to think it over I decided that I'd better let marriage alone."

SKIN DISEASE

Any skin disease such as acne, eczema, psoriasis, etc, is very unpleasant, but if the organs of elimination are working properly there will be no skin disease. If there is subluxation (displacement) of the vertebrae (small bones of the spine), causing nerve pressure and preventing the vital force from flowing freely to the kidneys, the latter will not function properly and the excretion will be thrown off by the pores of the skin, causing eczema and similar disorders. TRY CHIROPRACTIC VERTEBRAL ADJUSTMENTS for skin trouble and keep your eliminatory organs "up to par."

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you

Eating too much meat may produce kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder, and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jads Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so that it no longer irritates, thus often ending bladder disorders.

Jads Salts cannont injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithiawater drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders.

SKIN DISEASE

Any skin disease such as acne, eczema, psoriasis, etc, is very unpleasant, but if the organs of elimination are working properly there will be no skin disease. If there is subluxation (displacement) of the vertebrae (small bones of the spine), causing nerve pressure and preventing the vital force from flowing freely to the kidneys, the latter will not function properly and the excretion will be thrown off by the pores of the skin, causing eczema and similar disorders. TRY CHIROPRACTIC VERTEBRAL ADJUSTMENTS for skin trouble and keep your eliminatory organs "up to par."

THE PRIMARY ELECTION

IN Idaho this fall an attempt is being made to secure a mandate favoring a swing back from the freedom of the primary election to the convention system that was in vogue before the direct primary was introduced. There are many other states where the direct primary is endangered by the opposition of the leaders in the political parties who desire to carefully hand-pick candidates for election. In Minnesota the pre-primary was introduced by the last legislature for the purpose of hindering those who were not pledged to the support of certain party programs from coming into the primary and nominating a candidate who is not standing for all the planks in the party platform.

It must be conceded that there are objections to the direct primary, because of certain dangers in its workings arising out of a mob movement in any particular direction, just as there are objections to the failures which are possible in the application of anything else; for no method is absolutley perfect, and all methods are but means to an end. But while this is true of the direct primary, it is also obviously true of the pre-primary of 1922 in Minnesota. There were many in this city who were amused by this new movement in Minnesota when they saw how it worked this year. Others were angered. The vote cast for the delegates was not a majority vote, and in some cases the delegates elected were not sent to the district and state conventions, others being elected in the county convention to take the places of those duly elected by the people in the pre-primary election.

Those who place party interests before democratic ideals will be opposed to the direct primary, while those who place the expression of the people's will above party advantage will enthusiastically support the direct primary. Not only will they support the direct primary in state politics but they will seek to extend the operation of the direct primary until it embraces national politics and is the method of operation employed in choosing candidates who will enter the general election as representatives of the opposing parties in the contest for the chief gift within the power of the American people, that is, the presidency of the United States.

Without entering into the merits of the president of the United States, no one would be bold enough to assert that at the time of the republican convention Senator Harding was the popular choice of the rank and file of the Republican party.

The direct primary represents the nearest approach to democratic government, and to swing back from this method of electing candidates would be a confession of the break-down of democratic government. By this method the people have an opportunity of electing the candidates of their choice. However, it is asserted that when several candidates enter the field the result may be of the nature of a minority choice, as when three candidates poll more votes than the other candidate who polls a higher number than any one of the three. Such a difficulty is not insurmountable, and, inasmuch as a number of candidates are sometimes introduced for the purpose of killing off some other candidate, decent politics would provide the remedy. But even if several candidates enter the field with good intent, there is no reason why a means cannot be found for finding the majority candidate by calling for another vote of the two highest. One thing is certain, a backward step to convention-controlled politics is a confession of the weakness of the democracy of which we boast.

One only needs to allow one's mind to go back to 1912 to see how the people's will is thwarted by the convention method. The late Theodore Roosevelt was the popular candidate of the people that year for the republican nomination, but he was not nominated by the convention. This resulted in a split in the party which was responsible for the election of Woodrow Wilson with whatever of good or ill came to the country as a result of that election.

Because a thing ideally right does not function perfectly is not a sufficient cause for sacrificing the ideal to the merely expedient. The test of a man or a nation is found in the way in which they seek to work away from the expedient to the ideal; and, in the face of difficulties met on the road to the ideal, go right ahead, brushing the obstacles aside until the ideal is reached and the road thereto made safe. The bugle that sounds retreat is not heeded by those who are convinced that democracy is to be trusted, and that the problems that come with the extension of the democratic spirit, will be conquered by the will of the people who are the government.

PARTY ADVANTAGE VERSUS POPULAR WILL

IOWA went on record in the primary election as favoring Smith W. Brookhart as the candidate who should march under the republican banner in the contest with the democratic nominee in the general election. The colonel's majority was a splendid vindication of those things for which he stood in his campaign. The people of his state expressed themselves clearly as liking his stand on the important issues that must be faced by the next congress. But the nomination of Colonel Brookhart was not what the republican party leaders desired. Therefore, despite the fact that the colonel is the choice of a large majority of the people of Iowa, the "old guard" is out to get him.

There is one trait that is characteristically American and that is the appreciation that Americans have of a good loser. Outside of Iowa, where the political pot is boiling, other Americans will not be likely to feel kindly to those who, when so thoroughly defeated, refuse to acknowledge their defeat and organize a new attack using all the camouflage possible to hide the main issues of the campaign.

When will the American people speak out in repudiating such attempts as the "irreconcilables" in the republican party in Iowa are making, to insinuate that because Colonel Brookhart is a progressive and has friends in the socialist party he is intent upon denying "the existence of a Supreme Creator" and mocking "the honored institutions of marriage and the family;" and "would supplant the authority of the courts with the rule of the mob;" and "preach ever the gospel of discontent" with those "who are themselves the harbingers of revolution?"

Such propaganda, born in war times, when the passions of the people were aroused, will not produce the reaction that resulted then. The people believe in a fair fight, in a good loser, and in a candidate who is the choice of the people. Camouflage and smoke screens are things of the past, and will not change the will of the people of the state of Iowa.

The officers of the Federated Shop Crafts are continuing to conduct the strike in the usual lawful manner and are not worrying about Mr. Daugherty or his injunction. At least, the managers are realizing that the injunction is not bringing the strikers back to the shops; neither does it put in working condition the thousands of disserviceable locomotives and cars.

Carriers are Demoralized

Many authentic evidences of the deplorable state of railroad equipment came from the managers themselves during the past week. The Pennsylvania proclaimed an embargo on all shipments except perishables, live stock, and fuel on its lines west of Altoona. Trunk line roads in the eastern territory other than the New York Central and the Baltimore & Ohio, which have made settlements, have issued similar orders. Shortage of cars and defective motive power is the cause.

At Niles, Ohio, "on account of car shortage," says an Associated Press dispatch, "the Republic Iron & Steel Co. has shut down 8 of its 16 steel mills."

The Seventh Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, in its weekly resume of the industrial situation, says that mining operations and the necessary flow of fuel to the markets are being seriously retarded by the shortage of cars and locomotives. Illinois, the largest producer of bituminous coal, is only shipping 60 to 70 per cent of capacity, and adds:

Fuel Shortage Imminent

"With the output held in check and distribution limited by an inadequate car supply, the possibility of coal shortage is now largely dependent upon the ability of the railroads to furnish sufficient cars."

While, on the other hand, there is a different story told by officials of roads which have settled with the shopmen. Vice President A. C. Johnson of the Chicago & North Western, is quoted in the Chicago Evening News thus:

"Our road is returning to normal as fast as possible and we are taking care of current demands for shipments. Practically all of our old shopmen are back, and the resumption of work is beginning to tell on our equipment. Car and locomotive repairs are now going along satisfactorily, and we are able to handle all demands for coal in our territory."

Other western lines are not doing so well. The Santa Fe for instance, has turned out only one locomotive from its backshop in its big Topeka plant since the strike started. Yet I am reliably informed that the shop pay roll shows an increase of 33 1-3 percent over what it was before the strike. On the Rock Island lines, with 1,633 locomotives, averaging 100 backshop repairs monthly before the strike, not a single engine has been equipped for service since July 1st.

THE PRIMARY ELECTION

IN Idaho this fall an attempt is being made to secure a mandate favoring a swing back from the freedom of the primary election to the convention system that was in vogue before the direct primary was introduced. There are many other states where the direct primary is endangered by the opposition of the leaders in the political parties who desire to carefully hand-pick candidates for election. In Minnesota the pre-primary was introduced by the last legislature for the purpose of hindering those who were not pledged to the support of certain party programs from coming into the primary and nominating a candidate who is not standing for all the planks in the party platform.

It must be conceded that there are objections to the direct primary, because of certain dangers in its workings arising out of a mob movement in any particular direction, just as there are objections to the failures which are possible in the application of anything else; for no method is absolutley perfect, and all methods are but means to an end. But while this is true of the direct primary, it is also obviously true of the pre-primary of 1922 in Minnesota. There were many in this city who were amused by this new movement in Minnesota when they saw how it worked this year. Others were angered. The vote cast for the delegates was not a majority vote, and in some cases the delegates elected were not sent to the district and state conventions, others being elected in the county convention to take the places of those duly elected by the people in the pre-primary election.

Those who place party interests before democratic ideals will be opposed to the direct primary, while those who place the expression of the people's will above party advantage will enthusiastically support the direct primary. Not only will they support the direct primary in state politics but they will seek to extend the operation of the direct primary until it embraces national politics and is the method of operation employed in choosing candidates who will enter the general election as representatives of the opposing parties in the contest for the chief gift within the power of the American people, that is, the presidency of the United States.

Without entering into the merits of the president of the United States, no one would be bold enough to assert that at the time of the republican convention Senator Harding was the popular choice of the rank and file of the Republican party.

The direct primary represents the nearest approach to democratic government, and to swing back from this method of electing candidates would be a confession of the break-down of democratic government. By this method the people have an opportunity of electing the candidates of their choice. However, it is asserted that when several candidates enter the field the result may be of the nature of a minority choice, as when three candidates poll more votes than the other candidate who polls a higher number than any one of the three. Such a difficulty is not insurmountable, and, inasmuch as a number of candidates are sometimes introduced for the purpose of killing off some other candidate, decent politics would provide the remedy. But even if several candidates enter the field with good intent, there is no reason why a means cannot be found for finding the majority candidate by calling for another vote of the two highest. One thing is certain, a backward step to convention-controlled politics is a confession of the weakness of the democracy of which we boast.

One only needs to allow one's mind to go back to 1912 to see how the people's will is thwarted by the convention method. The late Theodore Roosevelt was the popular candidate of the people that year for the republican nomination, but he was not nominated by the convention. This resulted in a split in the party which was responsible for the election of Woodrow Wilson with whatever of good or ill came to the country as a result of that election.

Because a thing ideally right does not function perfectly is not a sufficient cause for sacrificing the ideal to the merely expedient. The test of a man or a nation is found in the way in which they seek to work away from the expedient to the ideal; and, in the face of difficulties met on the road to the ideal, go right ahead, brushing the obstacles aside until the ideal is reached and the road thereto made safe. The bugle that sounds retreat is not heeded by those who are convinced that democracy is to be trusted, and that the problems that come with the extension of the democratic spirit, will be conquered by the will of the people who are the government.

PARTY ADVANTAGE VERSUS POPULAR WILL

IOWA went on record in the primary election as favoring Smith W. Brookhart as the candidate who should march under the republican banner in the contest with the democratic nominee in the general election. The colonel's majority was a splendid vindication of those things for which he stood in his campaign. The people of his state expressed themselves clearly as liking his stand on the important issues that must be faced by the next congress. But the nomination of Colonel Brookhart was not what the republican party leaders desired. Therefore, despite the fact that the colonel is the choice of a large majority of the people of Iowa, the "old guard" is out to get him.

There is one trait that is characteristically American and that is the appreciation that Americans have of a good loser. Outside of Iowa, where the political pot is boiling, other Americans will not be likely to feel kindly to those who, when so thoroughly defeated, refuse to acknowledge their defeat and organize a new attack using all the camouflage possible to hide the main issues of the campaign.

When will the American people speak out in repudiating such attempts as the "irreconcilables" in the republican party in Iowa are making, to insinuate that because Colonel Brookhart is a progressive and has friends in the socialist party he is intent upon denying "the existence of a Supreme Creator" and mocking "the honored institutions of marriage and the family;" and "would supplant the authority of the courts with the rule of the mob;" and "preach ever the gospel of discontent" with those "who are themselves the harbingers of revolution?"

Such propaganda, born in war times, when the passions of the people were aroused, will not produce the reaction that resulted then. The people believe in a fair fight, in a good loser, and in a candidate who is the choice of the people. Camouflage and smoke screens are things of the past, and will not change the will of the people of the state of Iowa.

The officers of the Federated Shop Crafts are continuing to conduct the strike in the usual lawful manner and are not worrying about Mr. Daugherty or his injunction. At least, the managers are realizing that the injunction is not bringing the strikers back to the shops; neither does it put in working condition the thousands of disserviceable locomotives and cars.

Carriers are Demoralized

Many authentic evidences of the deplorable state of railroad equipment came from the managers themselves during the past week. The Pennsylvania proclaimed an embargo on all shipments except perishables, live stock, and fuel on its lines west of Altoona. Trunk line roads in the eastern territory other than the New York Central and the Baltimore & Ohio, which have made settlements, have issued similar orders. Shortage of cars and defective motive power is the cause.

At Niles, Ohio, "on account of car shortage," says an Associated Press dispatch, "the Republic Iron & Steel Co. has shut down 8 of its 16 steel mills."

The Seventh Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, in its weekly resume of the industrial situation, says that mining operations and the necessary flow of fuel to the markets are being seriously retarded by the shortage of cars and locomotives. Illinois, the largest producer of bituminous coal, is only shipping 60 to 70 per cent of capacity, and adds:

Fuel Shortage Imminent

"With the output held in check and distribution limited by an inadequate car supply, the possibility of coal shortage is now largely dependent upon the ability of the railroads to furnish sufficient cars."

While, on the other hand, there is a different story told by officials of roads which have settled with the shopmen. Vice President A. C. Johnson of the Chicago & North Western, is quoted in the Chicago Evening News thus:

"Our road is returning to normal as fast as possible and we are taking care of current demands for shipments. Practically all of our old shopmen are back, and the resumption of work is beginning to tell on our equipment. Car and locomotive repairs are now going along satisfactorily, and we are able to handle all demands for coal in our territory."

Other western lines are not doing so well. The Santa Fe for instance, has turned out only one locomotive from its backshop in its big Topeka plant since the strike started. Yet I am reliably informed that the shop pay roll shows an increase of 33 1-3 percent over what it was before the strike. On the Rock Island lines, with 1,633 locomotives, averaging 100 backshop repairs monthly before the strike, not a single engine has been equipped for service since July 1st.

BACK FROM HARVEST KILLED IN BRAINERD

W. R. Celeslie, Transient of St. Louis, Meets Death Attempting to "Hook on Freight"

BOTH LEGS CUT OFF BY TRAIN

Pickets and Railway Guards Rush to Help Him. Ambulance Took Him to St. Joseph's Hospital

W. R. Celeslie, a transient in Brainerd, was run over by a freight Friday afternoon, and died at 2:45 this morning from the injuries, having had both limbs amputated close to the body.

Celeslie, with three companions, had been working in the Dakota harvest fields, and had come to Brainerd earlier in the day Friday, on a freight. They were in the act of catching another freight bound for Duluth, boarding it near the 13th street crossing along the railroad shop fence.

Two of the men succeeded in "hooking" the freight and getting on top of the cars, but Celeslie fell while climbing up between the cars on the moving train and was run over, losing both limbs.

The accident occurred in full view of several pickets and railroad guards, who rushed to the aid of the injured man. An ambulance was called and Celeslie taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where every care and attention was given him, but the great loss of blood left him too weakened to withstand the reaction and he died in the early morning hours.

During his conscious moments, he stated that he did not wish to live and go through life a cripple. He gave his name and that of a brother in St. Louis, who has been notified and is coming to Brainerd to claim the body.

It is stated that the victim of this terrible accident is a fine looking, clean-cut young fellow, not more than twenty-five years of age. The supposition is that he had gone to Dakota for work in the harvest fields and was on his way east after the completion of that work. That he was not an adept at catching moving trains seems to be proven in the manner in which he met his death.

It was learned later that W. R. Celeslie's home was at 208 West Stein St., St. Louis, Mo., and that his brother, Joseph, who resides at the same address is on his way to Brainerd to take charge of the body.

The railroad guard who saw the details of the accident and who was the first to come to Celeslie's aid, was a man by the name of James Friel. The railroad company's claim agent is in the city getting complete data on the accident for the company files.

FUNERAL OF HARRY E. BROOKS

Held Friday Afternoon from the Family Residence, Rev. Arthur C. Smith Officiating

The funeral of Harry E. Brooks, well known traveling man, for forty-two years a resident of Brainerd, took place Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the family residence, 217 No. Seventh street. There was a large gathering at the house, many old friends and neighbors assembling to pay a last tribute of respect to the deceased. A great profusion of lovely floral offerings bore mute testimony to the high esteem in which he was held by those who knew him best. Those included a beautiful floral tribute from Seabury Grocery Co. of Minneapolis, by whom he was employed, which was accompanied by a letter from the president of the company, expressing his heartfelt sympathy, and his high appreciation of Mr. Brooks as a man of irreproachable character, and of his valuable services as an old and trusted employe of the company.

The services were brief, Rev. Arthur C. Smith, pastor of the Baptist church, simply read the Episcopal burial service. The interment was in beautiful Evergreen cemetery. The pall-bearers were Geo. D. LaBar, F. A. Farrar, W. A. M. Johnstone, Dr. Henri Ribbel, R. J. Hartley and Harry Koop, the latter now a resident of Crosby, where he is engaged in business.

The school board held its regular October meeting Monday evening, all members being present with the exception of Mrs. A. H. Anderson and Fred Drexler.

A communication was read in the form of an invitation from the Riverside parent and teachers associaton, inviting the members of the board to be present October 13th at a housewarming program at their new school addition.

Workmen Compensation Insurance

Another communication was received from the Ocean Insurance Co., calling attention to the fact that the board's workmen's compensation insurance policy had expired. Upon motion, it was renewed for another year.

Superintendent Cobb submitted a report on the condition of the book room, and the same was accepted and placed on file.

Lowell Plumbing

Bids were opened for plumbing fixtures to be installed in the Lowell building. The form of the bids called for furnishing the fixtures and installing them, and also for installation alone, if the board wishes to purchase the fixtures direct.

There were three bidders for this contract, being the Sherlund Co., the Gruenhagen Co., and Harry Bellmuth. The board rejected all bids for the furnishing of fixtures and awarded the contract of installation to the Sherlund Co.

Riverside School Addition

The building committee reported on the condition of the Riverside school addition contract, stating that with the exception of a few small items, such as the anti-panic lock on front door and several pieces of hardware, the building was practically completed. The work is reported satisfactory in every respect and the committee recommended the acceptance of the building, and on motion carried, it was accepted and Contractor C. B. White was allowed the balance due him on his contract.

Playground Equipment

The building committee also reported that the park board was about to remove the playground equipment from the old 6th street school property to the Lincoln grounds, and stated that the park board asked that school board stand one-half of the expense of this moving, which was granted.

Coal Bids

The purchasing committee was allowed to advertise for bids on one car of coal for the Riverside building. The teachers comittee reported on the hiring of teachers since the last board meeting, there being two new teachers in the high school, and three in the grade schools.

Tax Levy Estimate

A motion carried to the effect that the estimate for the tax levy to cover school expenses for the ensuing year as reported by the finance committee at a previous meeting be amended and modified as follows:

Amount to be allowed for operation of schools	$121,000
Sinking fund for payment of bonds	4,000
For interest on bonds other than state bonds	2,925
Sinking fund for clearing up cost of school building in Northeast Brainerd	600
Fund for school building in West Brainerd	3,000

Making a total of $131,525. A resolution was adopted by the board, fixing the tax levy for this year at the above figures.

Nurse's Automobile

The health and sanitation committee reported that their funds were practically depleted for operating the nurse's automobile, and that they did not think it advisable to put on a tag day at this time. The committee asked that the school district provide funds for the upkeep of the car until such time as the committee deems it advisable to have a tag day.

A motion passed to allow a sum, not to exceed $30 per month, beginning September 1st and running until further action of the board, for the maintenance of this nurses automobile.

Temporary Loans

Two resolutions were adopted by the board authorizing temprary loans to tide the board over until money is received from the county treasurer, one loan for $10,000 the other for $6,000.

Manual Training Department

The Mahlum Lumber Co., was awarded the bid to supply special grades of lumber for use in the manual training department. The purchasing committee had referred to them the matter of buying special equipment for the manual training department, such as machinery, a jointer, or a lathe, or both.

Superintendent Cobb reported that arrangements had been made with Chief of Police Erick Graff, to act as truant officer, and that he had already started upon such duties.

Teachers Payroll Ratified

The September payroll of teachers as allowed by the finance committee, and amounting to $8,525.52 was duly ratified by the board.

After allowing a large number of small bills for books, supplies and material, the board adjourned at 12:50 a. m.

The city council held its adjourned meeting Friday evening, all members being present except Aldermen Cameron, Anderson and Strickler.

The matter of financing the sewer in the fifth ward and for letting the contract for putting in this sewer, was the first thing up for consideration.

Louis Sherlund, representing the Sherlund Co., appeared and offered to take warrants to cover the expense of installing this sewer, provided his bid was accepted, and to those paying cash he offered a 10% discount.

On motion carried, the contract for this project, known as lateral sewer B10D4, was let to the Sherlund Co., at $2.23 per foot.

E. C. Bane presented a formal request for permission to erect a filling station on the vacant lot at the southwest corner of the intersection of 6th and Laurel streets. There was quite a little opposition to allowing this, among the citizens of the city, a petition containing over 100 names being presented to the council asking that that body reject the application.

A vote of the aldermen present was taken on a motion made to refuse a lisence to Mr. Bane. Those voting in favor of the motion and against issuing a license, were Aldermen Lyonais, Holmstrom and Michael. Those voting against the motion and favoring the issuance of the license being Cordes, Brusegaard and Quanstrom. In the absence of the mayor, who is entitled to vote in the case of a tie, the matter had to be left without a decision.

The council adjourned until next Monday night, at which time it is expected to hold another special meeting, provided the work can be arranged by that time.

RAIN AIDS FIRE FIGHTERS TODAY

Situation in Brainerd Dstrict Composed of 4 Counties or 82 Townships Improving

ADJUTANT GENERAL RHINOW

Inspects District and May Have Aeroplane Assigned for Scouting if Fogs Lift

A heavy, soaking rain starting up about 6:30 o'clock Saturday morning is doing much to dampen forest fires in the Brainerd district and assisting fire fighters to get them under control.

The forest fire situation in the Brainerd district has become very serious this week, as reported by Forest Ranger John Nelson, and Pilot Bullock of Breezy Point.

Philbrook Fire

A bad fire broke out near Philbrook Wednesday afternoon and worked rapidly northeast nearly into Motley. A quantity of hay and meadow land was burned before the fire was brought under control.

Near Pine River

Another bad fire southwest of Pine River was brought under control yesterday after a stubborn fight. But a new one broke out in Ansel and McKinley townships west of Pine River about 16 miles and gained considerable proportions up to Friday, when Mr. Nelson got it well checked and left it in charge of Patrolman Berg.

In Ross Township

Pilot Bullock, in flying from Breezy Point to Brainerd reported sighting a bad fire between Emily and Crosby. This fire is in Ross Lake township and has been burning fiercely for several days. Mr. Nelson is now working on it, assisting Patrolman Frank Anderson from Emily, and they hope to have it in check by tonight.

Near Riverton

There is a strong fire just south and west of Riverton which has gained strong headway and is burning in a westerly direction. It has jumped an old tote road and widened out considerably as well as burning ahead.

But by far the worst fire, from Brainerd's standpoint is one just east of the city about three miles. It has taken on a very threatening aspect, starting near the gravel pit on the Ironton-Crosby road and burning southwest toward Brainerd, crossing several swamps, meadows and intervening highlands. Section men from the Northern Pacific have been fighting it, and Thursday they thought it was under control, but it broke out again in the morning with added impetus. Patrolman Robert Crust states that it will take a hard rain and one of long duration to really bring the flames under control. Unless this vicinity is visited by such a rain, he said that Brainerd people should hold themselves in readiness to go out and assist in fighting this fire should an east wind come up, which would bring the flames down close to Northeast Brainerd.

Adjutant General Rhinow and his staff have gone over this district thoroughly and it is understood that he will have an aeroplane from Duluth sent over here if the fogs lift to assist in patroling the fires named above ,and other smaller ones in the district, to look over the fire situation there. He is up in this section because of appeals made to the governor by residents of the Cuyuna range towns.

At Rabbit Lake

A fire has been reported around Rabbit lake, five miles north of Crosby. A number of men are fighting this fire. The village of Manganese, four miles north of Crosby was threatened gravely but a crew of over one hundred men succeeded in checking it and saving the town, after the fire had come within a mile of the village limits.

The heavy fog and light rain of yesterday did much toward checking the small fires over the territory which might have developed dangerous proportions, and the heavier rains that seem imminent will put all of the fires under control.

BACK FROM HARVEST KILLED IN BRAINERD

W. R. Celeslie, Transient of St. Louis, Meets Death Attempting to "Hook on Freight"

BOTH LEGS CUT OFF BY TRAIN

W. R. Celeslie, a transient in Brainerd, was run over by a freight Friday afternoon, and died at 2:45 this morning from the injuries, having had both limbs amputated close to the body.

Celeslie, with three companions, had been working in the Dakota harvest fields, and had come to Brainerd earlier in the day Friday, on a freight. They were in the act of catching another freight bound for Duluth, boarding it near the 13th street crossing along the railroad shop fence.

Two of the men succeeded in "hooking" the freight and getting on top of the cars, but Celeslie fell while climbing up between the cars on the moving train and was run over, losing both limbs.

The accident occurred in full view of several pickets and railroad guards, who rushed to the aid of the injured man. An ambulance was called and Celeslie taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where every care and attention was given him, but the great loss of blood left him too weakened to withstand the reaction and he died in the early morning hours.

During his conscious moments, he stated that he did not wish to live and go through life a cripple. He gave his name and that of a brother in St. Louis, who has been notified and is coming to Brainerd to claim the body.

It is stated that the victim of this terrible accident is a fine looking, clean-cut young fellow, not more than twenty-five years of age. The supposition is that he had gone to Dakota for work in the harvest fields and was on his way east after the completion of that work. That he was not an adept at catching moving trains seems to be proven in the manner in which he met his death.

It was learned later that W. R. Celeslie's home was at 208 West Stein St., St. Louis, Mo., and that his brother, Joseph, who resides at the same address is on his way to Brainerd to take charge of the body.

The railroad guard who saw the details of the accident and who was the first to come to Celeslie's aid, was a man by the name of James Friel. The railroad company's claim agent is in the city getting complete data on the accident for the company files.

FUNERAL OF HARRY E. BROOKS

The funeral of Harry E. Brooks, well known traveling man, for forty-two years a resident of Brainerd, took place Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the family residence, 217 No. Seventh street. There was a large gathering at the house, many old friends and neighbors assembling to pay a last tribute of respect to the deceased. A great profusion of lovely floral offerings bore mute testimony to the high etseem in which he was held by those who knew him best. Those included a beautiful floral tribute from Seabury Grocery Co. of Minneapolis, by whom he was employed, which was accompanied by a letter from the president of the company, expressing his heartfelt sympathy, and his high appreciation of Mr. Brooks as a man of irreproachable character, and of his valuable services as an old and trusted employe of the company.

The services were brief, Rev. Arthur C. Smith, pastor of the Baptist church, simply read the Episcopal burial service. The interment was in beautiful Evergreen cemetery. The pall-bearers were Geo. D. LaBar, F. A. Farrar, W. A. M. Johnstone, Dr. Henri Ribbel, R. J. Hartley and Harry Koop ,the latter now a resident of Crosby, where he is engaged in business.

SCHOOL TAX LEVY SET AT $131,525

School Board Opens Bids for Plumbing Fixtures to be Installed in Lowell Building

INSTALLATION TO SHERLUND

Riverside School Addition Accepted, Contractor White Allowed His Balance Due

The school board held its regular October meeting Monday evening, all members being present with the exception of Mrs. A. H. Anderson and Fred Drexler.

A communication was read in the form of an invitation from the Riverside parent and teachers associaton, inviting the members of the board to be present October 13th at a housewarming program at their new school addition.

Workmen Compensation Insurance

Another communication was received from the Ocean Insurance Co., calling attention to the fact that the board's workmen's compensation insurance policy had expired. Upon motion, it was renewed for another year.

Superintendent Cobb submitted a report on the condition of the book room, and the same was accepted and placed on file.

Lowell Plumbing

Bids were opened for plumbing fixtures to be installed in the Lowell building. The form of the bids called for furnishing the fixtures and installing them, and also for installation alone, if the board wishes to purchase the fixtures direct.

There were three bidders for this contract, being the Sherlund Co., the Gruenhagen Co., and Harry Bellmuth. The board rejected all bids for the furnishing of fixtures and awarded the contract of installation to the Sherlund Co.

Riverside School Addition

The building committee reported on the condition of the Riverside school addition contract, stating that with the exception of a few small items, such as the anti-panic lock on front door and several pieces of hardware, the building was practically completed. The work is reported satisfactory in every respect and the committee recommended the acceptance of the building, and on motion carried, it was accepted and Contractor C. B. White was allowed the balance due him on his contract.

Playground Equipment

The building committee also reported that the park board was about to remove the playground equipment from the old 6th street school property to the Lincoln grounds, and stated that the park board asked that school board stand one-half of the expense of this moving, which was granted.

Coal Bids

The purchasing committee was allowed to advertise for bids on one car of coal for the Riverside building. The teachers comittee reported on the hiring of teachers since the last board meeting, there being two new teachers in the high school, and three in the grade schools.

Tax Levy Estimate

A motion carried to the effect that the estimate for the tax levy to cover school expenses for the ensuing year as reported by the finance committee at a previous meeting be amended and modified as follows:

Amount to be allowed for operation of schools	$121,000
Sinking fund for payment of bonds	4,000
For interest on bonds other than state bonds	2,925
Sinking fund for clearing up cost of school building in Northeast Brainerd	600
Fund for school building in West Brainerd	3,000

Making a total of $131,525. A resolution was adopted by the board, fixing the tax levy for this year at the above figures.

Nurse's Automobile

The health and sanitation committee reported that their funds were practically depleted for operating the nurse's automobile, and that they did not think it advisable to put on a tag day at this time. The committee asked that the school district provide funds for the upkeep of the car until such time as the committee deems it advisable to have a tag day.

A motion passed to allow a sum, not to exceed $30 per month, beginning September 1st and running until further action of the board, for the maintenance of this nurses automobile.

Temporary Loans

Two resolutions were adopted by the board authorizing tempirary loans to tide the board over until money is received from the county treasurer, one loan for $10,000 the other for $6,000.

Manual Training Department

The Mahlum Lumber Co., was awarded the bid to supply special grades of lumber for use in the manual training department. The purchasing committee had referred to them the matter of buying special equipment for the manual training department, such as machinery, a jointer, or a lathe, or both.

Superintendent Cobb reported that arrangements had been made with Chief of Police Erick Graff, to act as truant officer, and that he had already started upon such duties.

Teachers Payroll Ratified

The September payroll of teachers as allowed by the finance committee, and amounting to $8,525.52 was duly ratified by the board.

After allowing a large number of small bills for books, supplies and material, the board adjourned at 12:50 a. m.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYERS IN A. L.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Oct. 7.—First basemen, second basemen and catchers seem to be in a position where value counts most on a ball club.

In the vote taken recently among the sport writers to decide the prize for the most valuable player in the American League, five votes each were cast for players in the above positions.

Four votes went to pitrhers, four to shortstops, three to outfielders and one to third basemen.

* * * * * * * * *

Veteran baseball writers named twenty-seven players on their ballots and the votes in some instances were apparently placed out of sentiment rather than respect for ability.

It is rather amazing that Kenneth Williams, the great slugger of the St. Louis Browns, and Bing Miller and Walker the long distance clouters of the Philadelphia Athletics, failed to get even a single vote when such players as Burns and Pratt, of the Red Sox; Meusel, of the Yanks, Peck, of the Senators and Cutshaw of the Tigers were considered good enough for votes.

* * * * * * * * *

Teddy Hayes, former trainer of Jack Dempsey, who got the champion in shape for his fight with Carpentier, has been appointed athletic director of the new Hollywood (Cal.) Athletic Club. During the war he was physical director of the Great Lakes Naval Training station and had charge of thousands of men. He is well qualified for his new position and ought to make good.

* * * * * * * * *

In the normal process of events, Yale ought to have a very difficult time in developing a successor for Malcolm Aldrich, the great captain of the 1921 varsity eleven. Reports from New Haven indicate that Newell Neidlinger may make the Elis forget Aldrich. He understudied Aldrich last season and he had about as much chance to shine as the substitute shortstop of the New York Yankees.

* * * * * * * * *

For sour faces and mournful tongues, the usual run of college football coaches are the champions of all weights and all classes.

Bob Folwell, head of the Navy football department, was the first big one to bay to the skies this fall.

"We lost our whole line and we'll have a tough time winning a game. The Army ought to beat anything in the country. They shouldn't lose a game," he said recently to friends in Philadelphia.

* * * * * * * * *

With practically the whole 1921 team available—and it was a powerful organization—the prospects at West Point were indeed most rosy up until a few days ago. Then Walter French, the brilliant half-back and the whole works on the offense, was downed by scholastic difficulties and left the academy.

West Point hasn't an abundance of back field material and as the whole offense was built around French, the army officers will practically have to start all over. Not so good!

* * * * * * * * *

French, who was also a star baseball player at West Point, has signed a contract to play with the Philadelphia Athletics next season.

AMUSEMENTS

"Fighting Streak" is in Final Day Here

Those lovers of good old reliable western photoplays—and they are legion—who have not seen the William Fox picture "The Fighting Streak" at the Lyceum theatre, now have only this evening to see this thrilling, entertaining new screen drama.

Its star is Tom Mix, who is widely praised by critics as never having made a poor picture. He more than lives up to his reputation in this one.

"Watch Your Step" at Lyceum Sunday

Your Step," which will be shown at the Lyceum theatre Sunday. The picture portrays foibles of youth, the daring of a young man and the responsiveness of an even younger lady. Miss Miller is only 17 and Mr. Landis is in his early twenties.

The picture is a rural comedy with enough thrills to satisfy a lover of wild western comedies. Bert Woodruff, as an old country storekeeper gives a delightful performance and William Orlamond, who has appeared in several Goldwyn productions, has another humorous role in "Watch Your Step."

Rupert Hughes' "Come On Over" at Lyceum

Did you see "The Old Nest"? Or "Dangerous Curve Ahead"? Or "Hold Your Horses"? Or "Scratch My Back"? They were all written by Rupert Hughes and produced by Goldwyn and rank with the best American photoplays ever made. A new Rupert Hughes picture, an Irish-American comedy, "Come On Over," is coming to the Lyceum theatre on Monday for two days. Colleen Moore and Ralph Graves have the leading roles. Manager Hiller says it is one of the best, and most human pictures he has presented in months. He has designated next week as "Family Re-union Week" and each program has been selected with special care.

Good Word for "Ghoses."

"Even if dey is ghoses," said Uncle Eben, "I don' see no sense in bein' skeered of 'em. Dey don' hurt nobody and dey don' steal nuffin'."

Eighth Inning

GIANTS—E. Meusel singled on the first ball to center. Young flied to R. Meusel who nearly doubled his brother at first. Kelly hit into a double play, Pipp to Scott. No runs, one hit, no errors.

YANKS—Elmer Smith batting for Mays. Smith fanned. Witt doubled through Groh. Dugan flied to Cunningham, who made a brilliant running catch. Ruth flied to Frisch who went back almost to the right field wall for the catch. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Ninth Inning

GIANTS—Jones now pitching for the Yanks. Cunningham flied to Witt on an easy chance. Snyder popped to Scott in short left on the first ball. McQuillan flied to Witt. No runs, no hits, no errors.

YANKS—Pipp first man up. Pipp doubled. R Meusel hit to Groh, and Pipp was run down between second and third, Groh to Bancroft. Schang hit to left center for a single, sending Meusel to third. Schang was out trying for second, Cunningham to Frisch. Ward flied to Meusel. No runs, two hits, no errors.

New York, Oct. 7—A light rain was falling here at 8 a. m. this morning. No announcement on whether this would cause postponement of the fourth game of the world series was made. Showers were predicted for the afternoon.

May Rain Sunday

Washington, Oct. 7—Rain tonight and tomorrow will dampen prospects for a Sunday world series game in New York, the weather bureau predicted today.

The forecast called for rain tonight with showers and cooler weather Sunday.

Light Mist Falling

New York, Oct. 7.—A light mist was falling shortly before noon today. The skies were leaden and a fog covered the vicinity of the Polo grounds, where the Giants and the Yanks are scheduled to play the fourth game of the world's series this afternoon.

THIS BRIDE REGISTERS UNDER MAIDEN NAME

And the Waldorf Astoria did not like it. She is Mrs. Edward L. Bernays and was married just a few days ago. So when she went to the hotel with her husband, wishing to keep her own identity or possibly forgetting that it was customary for a wife to register under the husband's name, she registered as Doris E. Fleischman. The difficulty was straightened out by adding under the husband's signature, "and wife." So it all ended happily and the clerks at the famous New York hotel have been instructed how registration should be made in the future of similar cases.

Cambric for a King.

In 1530 a purse of gold was offered in behalf of Henry VIII of England to the workmen who would produce the king's shirts. The prize was won by the weavers of Cambrai and the material was called cambric, in honor of the town in which it was made. So fine was the linen that there were 120 or more threads to the inch. Straightway it became the fashion for all fine underwear, collars, cuffs, handkerchiefs and baby dresses to be made of cambric.

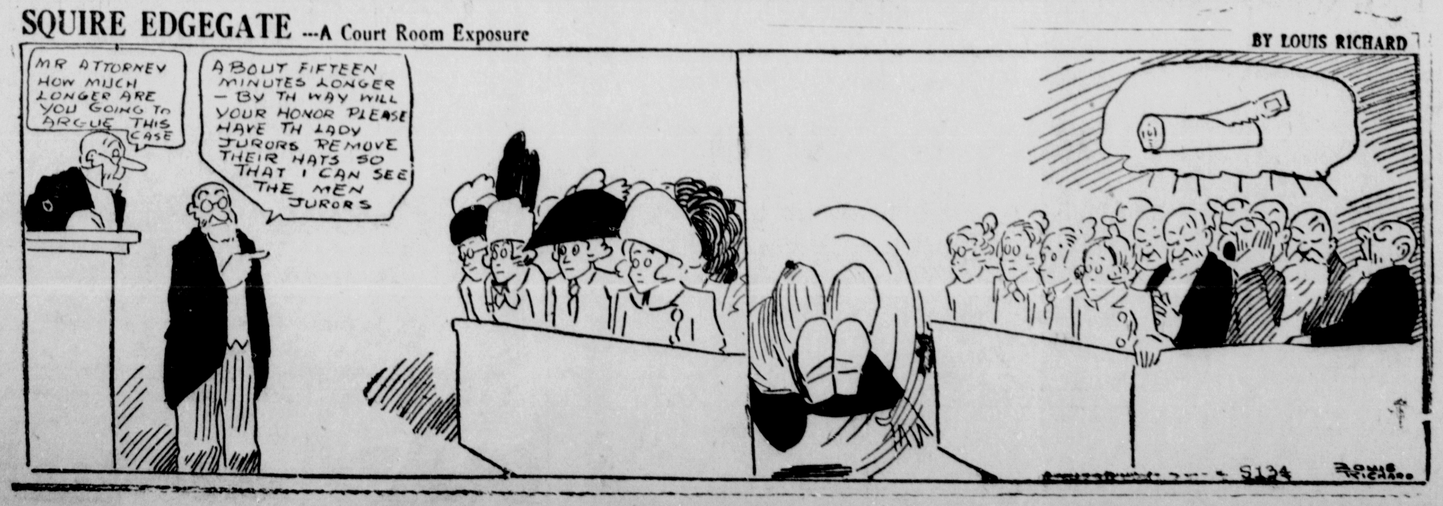

MISS COLIETT, 19, CONGRATULATED ON WINNING GOLF TITLE

By defeating Mrs. William A. Cavin of England in the final round by a score of 5 up and 4 to play, Miss Glenna Coliett, of Providence, R. I., became woman golf champion of the United States. She is shown here, second from left shaking hands over the cup emblematic of the championship with Mrs. Gavin.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYERS IN A. L.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Oct. 7.—First basemen, second basemen and catchers seem to be in a position where value counts most on a ball club.

In the vote taken recently among the sport writers to decide the prize for the most valuable player in the American League, five votes each were cast for players in the above positions.

Four votes went to pitrhers, four to shortstops, three to outfielders and one to third basemen.

* * * * * * * * *

Veteran baseball writers named twenty-seven players on their ballots and the votes in some instances were apparently placed out of sentiment rather than respect for ability.

It is rather amazing that Kenneth Williams, the great slugger of the St. Louis Browns, and Bing Miller and Walker the long distance clouters of the Philadelphia Athletics, failed to get even a single vote when such players as Burns and Pratt, of the Red Sox; Meusel, of the Yanks, Peck, of the Senators and Cutshaw of the Tigers were considered good enough for votes.

* * * * * * * * *

Teddy Hayes, former trainer of Jack Dempsey, who got the champion in shape for his fight with Carpentier, has been appointed athletic director of the new Hollywood (Cal.) Athletic Club. During the war he was physical director of the Great Lakes Naval Training station and had charge of thousands of men. He is well qualified for his new position and ought to make good.

* * * * * * * * *

In the normal process of events, Yale ought to have a very difficult time in developing a successor for Malcolm Aldrich, the great captain of the 1921 varsity eleven. Reports from New Haven indicate that Newell Neidlinger may make the Elis forget Aldrich. He understudied Aldrich last season and he had about as much chance to shine as the substitute shortstop of the New York Yankees.

* * * * * * * * *

For sour faces and mournful tongues, the usual run of college football coaches are the champions of all weights and all classes.

Bob Folwell, head of the Navy football department, was the first big one to bay to the skies this fall.

"We lost our whole line and we'll have a tough time winning a game. The Army ought to beat anything in the country. They shouldn't lose a game," he said recently to friends in Philadelphia.

* * * * * * * * *

With practically the whole 1921 team available—and it was a powerful organization—the prospects at West Point were indeed most rosy up until a few days ago. Then Walter French, the brilliant half-back and the whole works on the offense, was downed by scholastic difficulties and left the academy.

West Point hasn't an abundance of back field material and as the whole offense was built around French, the army officers will practically have to start all over. Not so good!

* * * * * * * * *

French, who was also a star baseball player at West Point, has signed a contract to play with the Philadelphia Athletics next season.

"Fighting Streak" is in Final Day Here

Those lovers of good old reliable western photoplays—and they are legion—who have not seen the William Fox picture "The Fighting Streak" at the Lyceum theatre, now have only this evening to see this thrilling, entertaining new screen drama.

Its star is Tom Mix, who is widely praised by critics as never having made a poor picture. He more than lives up to his reputation in this one.

"Watch Your Step" at Lyceum Sunday

Your Step," which will be shown at the Lyceum theatre Sunday. The picture portrays foibles of youth, the daring of a young man and the responsiveness of an even younger lady. Miss Miller is only 17 and Mr. Landis is in his early twenties.

The picture is a rural comedy with enough thrills to satisfy a lover of wild western comedies. Bert Woodruff, as an old country storekeeper gives a delightful performance and William Orlamond, who has appeared in several Goldwyn productions, has another humorous role in "Watch Your Step."

Rupert Hughes' "Come On Over" at Lyceum

Did you see "The Old Nest"? Or "Dangerous Curve Ahead"? Or "Hold Your Horses"? Or "Scratch My Back"? They were all written by Rupert Hughes and produced by Goldwyn and rank with the best American photoplays ever made. A new Rupert Hughes picture, an Irish-American comedy, "Come On Over," is coming to the Lyceum theatre on Monday for two days. Colleen Moore and Ralph Graves have the leading roles. Manager Hiller says it is one of the best, and most human pictures he has presented in months. He has designated next week as "Family Re-union Week" and each program has been selected with special care.

Good Word for "Ghoses."

"Even if dey is ghoses," said Uncle Eben, "I don' see no sense in bein' skeered of 'em. Dey don' hurt nobody and dey don' steal nuffin'."
